

HOW DO I FILE A CLAIM?

If you think that you are a victim of sex discrimination, you should first contact the EEO representative from your agency.

Complaints must be written and should be filed within 30 days of the incident.

If you have questions or concerns, please contact your EEO Office or the Office of the Statewide EEO Coordinator at (410) 767-3800.

SAFE AND CONFIDENTIAL

All investigations into your complaint are strictly confidential. Your information will only be discussed with pertinent individuals who need to know for purposes of investigation and resolution.

If you file a claim or pursue a complaint, oppose discrimination, or participate in an investigation, Maryland Law protects you against retaliation from your employer.

It's important to understand that retaliation is not just limited to firing. It includes other adverse actions such as harassment, demotion, and unjustified negative evaluations.

SEX DISCRIMINATION

Office of the Statewide
Equal Employment Opportunity
Coordinator (OSEEOC)

Office of the Statewide Equal Employment
Opportunity Coordinator (OSEEOC)

DEFINING SEX DISCRIMINATION:

Sex (gender) discrimination occurs when a person is treated unfairly because of his or her sex.

Types of sex discrimination include:

- Purposefully granting job promotions to only male employees
- Implementing a neutral policy, such as a dress code, that adversely affects one particular sex
- Making disparaging jokes or remarks about a co-workers sex to the point that it creates an hostile work environment

LEGAL BACKGROUND:

Protections are derived from Maryland's Anti-Discrimination law State Government Article Title 20 and State Personnel and Pensions Article §2-302, and also by Maryland's Code of Fair Employment Practices (Executive Order 01.01.2007.16).and also by Maryland's Equal Rights Amendment.

Additionally, Title VII also bars employment decisions based on assumptions or stereotypes about a particular sex's abilities, traits, or work performance.

ADDITIONAL PROTECTIONS

Sexual Harassment:

Sexual Harassment is a form of sex discrimination prohibited under Title VII and State Law. The harassment must be unwelcome and include actions such as sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.

It is important to note that:

- the victim and harasser can either be a man or a woman
- the victim can be the same-sex as the harasser
- the victim doesn't have to be directly harassed but could be anyone affected by the harassment.

Equal Pay:

The right to be free from pay discrimination is derived from Title VII, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, and the Maryland Equal Pay Act.

It is illegal for employers to pay unequal wages to males and females who perform substantially similar jobs that require similarly equal skill, effort, responsibility, and also are performed under comparable working conditions in the same establishment.

HOW AM I PROTECTED?

It is illegal to discriminate on the basis of sex in regards to:

- recruitment
- hiring
- transferring
- dismissal
- discipline
- work conditions
- promotions
- training
- advertisement
- retirement
- assignment
- performance evaluations

FIGHT DISCRIMINATION:

If you or someone you know is being discriminated against, you can take the following actions:

1. Speak to the harasser. S/he might not know that his or her behavior is offensive. Also, be sure to document the incident(s) thoroughly—date, time, exact words said, and, if applicable, witnesses.
2. Speak to your supervisor. S/he may have to report your information to the EEO Office.
3. Speak to your agency's EEO Office directly.
4. File a claim with the EEO Office.
